A SERIES OF MAPS,

TO ILLUSTRATE

The Old and New Testament:

DRAWN FROM THE BEST AUTHORITIES,

ANCIENT AND MODERN,

By J. T. ASSHETON.

NEW EDITION.

These are the inheritances which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, divided for an inheritance by lot, in Shiloh, before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: so they made an end of dividing the country.———JOSHUA xix. 51.

MONACENSIS.

TO THE QUEEN.

MADAM,

THAT benignity which, through a long and glorious reign, has, on all occasions, been one of the most distinguished features of YOUR MAJESTY'S highly venerated character, but which has been pre-eminently exercised whenever the interests of our most Holy Religion could be promoted by your Royal Favour, has again influenced YOUR MAJESTY to afford your august protection to The Scripture Atlas; a work, whose tendency to benefit the cause of that religion, must be materially strengthened by the patronage it has received from one of its most illustrious ornaments.

To facilitate the study of the Inspired Volume has been the principal aim, MADAM, of the Publisher and respective Editors; and, by the assistance thus afforded, the religious community at large will, doubtless, derive additional improvement and delight from a perusal of its sacred pages: it is, also, confidently hoped, that the critical inquirers after geographical information will now be induced to direct their particular attention to a Book so deeply important to mankind; and while engaged in a mere scientific pursuit, they may, happily for themselves, acquire that superior knowledge which can alone make wise unto salvation.

Such being the object and expectation, which, under YOUR MAJESTY'S most gracious auspices, promise to be so amply and effectually fulfilled, I beg leave, with all humility and devotion, to lay The Scripture Atlas at YOUR MAJESTY'S feet.

With the most profound respect, the highest veneration, and the most heartfelt gratitude for the distinguished honour which YOUR MAJESTY has deigned to confer upon me, I am,

MADAM,

Your Majesty's

Most dutiful,

most obliged,

and most obedient

Subject and Servant,

SAMUEL LEIGH.

ADDRESS TO THE PUBLIC.

In the present advanced state of science, Geography requires no recommendation; that its advantages are duly appreciated, may be inferred from the ample attention which it has received from almost every class of the community, and from its forming a very important branch of every enlightened system of education. If general geography is so interesting to the public at large, there is also a very considerable portion of society who regard an acquaintance with the geography of the Holy Scriptures as highly necessary; for an accurate knowledge of the situation of places mentioned in the sacred volume, must necessarily throw much light on many passages which would otherwise appear dark and obscure.

The drawings have been delineated with peculiar care; all the best authorities have been consulted; the errors and contradictions of the various authors and draftsmen who have been engaged in works of a similar nature, have been guarded against; neither labour nor expense has been spared, to render the Atlas as perfect as possible; and where absolute certainty could not be obtained, the preference has been given to those authorities which appeared least exceptionable. The work has been submitted to the inspection of competent judges; and, it is presumed, will be found infinitely superior to any publication of the kind that has hitherto appeared. An Atlas of this description (comprising the geography of the Old and New Testament only) was much wanted; and the work in its present form will afford every assistance to those who wish to acquire a competent knowledge of the geographical and historical parts of the Holy Scriptures.

An important work entitled "Scripture Geography" is now attached to the Atlas, and will be found extremely useful to Biblical readers; the history of every place mentioned in the Old and New Testament is particularly noticed, and much valuable historical and geographical information introduced: the whole forms a complete body of Scriptural knowledge. It has always been a subject of considerable interest, to young people in particular, to trace the origin and progress of the Sacred Records from the earliest period to the present day; and the subject is now treated in a manner perfectly intelligible, and it is presumed quite satisfactory to an inquiring mind.

LONDON, 1818.

COMPLETE INDEX

TO THE

SCRIPTURE ATLAS,

ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED;

WITH THE

LATITUDE AND LONGITUDE;

ALSO

Scriptural References.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR SAMUEL LEIGH, 18, STRAND,

BY W. CLOWES, NORTHUMBERLAND-COURT, STRAND.

1818.

ADVERTISEMENT.

THE very high, distinguished, and almost unexampled patronage which has been afforded to the SCRIPTURE ATLAS, has induced the Publisher to make every effort in his power to render it as complete and extensively useful as possible.

Impelled by a sense of gratitude for favours so abundantly bestowed, and in compliance with the suggestions of numerous Friends and Patrons of the Work, an ALPHABETICAL LIST has been carefully arranged, of all the Places mentioned in the ATLAS, with their Latitude and Longitude, and the Map or Maps in which they appear; together with a Scriptural Reference, wherever the instances respectively required it.

Although such a guide may be a needless addendum to the many deeply learned and eminently pious characters who have honoured this publication with their notice, it is humbly presumed, that the INDEX now offered to the Subscribers, and upon which the utmost care and attention have been bestowed, will be found of material service to the general reader; and, in a very especial degree, to the youthful student in Scriptural Geography, for whose assistance and benefit so minute a Directory has, indeed, been principally designed.

Such young persons will, however, bear in mind, that but few, comparatively, of the minor places which are marked down in the ATLAS, have either name or existence at the present moment; although we have the testimony of numerous respectable authors and travellers (who, some from motives of mere curiosity, and others from the impulse of a higher feeling, have been induced to explore a region so interesting to the Christian world), that many of the remarkable places of which we read in Scripture are still to be found, and the ruins of others distinctly to be recognized.

The Cities, Towns, Villages, &c., inserted in the ATLAS, of which no mention is made in the Bible, are introduced to convey a more accurate idea of the relative situation of the places which are there expressly named, and for the satisfaction of such persons as are more accustomed to the use of general maps.

The younger portion of our Subscribers will particularly advert to the circumstance, that the same tract of land has been variously distinguished and described at different periods of time, and under different rulers and governors, and this will be found fully treated of in the Scripture Geography.

Other matters, immediately connected with Scripture History, are more fully elucidated in the Work now referred to, which embraces the most important facts recorded in the Two Testaments, and affords every useful secondary assistance that may be required in the course of a perusal and study of the SACRED VOLUME.

STRAND, 1818.
